CHAUFFEUR ARRESTED

Was Neatly Trapped by Chester Doyle in Disguise as a Sailor.

Chester Doyle had an automobile ride on Wednesday evening. It was an eventful ride and resulted in the chauffeur, who gave his name as T. Jordan, being taken to the police station and booked on a charge of procuring a woman, who gave her name as Taylor, who had been picked up during the ride, was also arrested as being a party to the act. Both appeared in the police court yesterday morning to answer to the charges preferred against them but the case was set over to another day this week. Mr. Jordan stated then that his right name was Johnson.

Doyle appeared in Honolulu on the night in question as a sea-faring man, "Captain" of a certain mythical vessel which was then lying at Brewer's wharf. An automobile came along and "Captain" Doyle was asked if he desired a ride. He was addressed as "mate," but Doyle indignantly informed the chauffeur that he was a "Captain." A long ride was taken to the suburbs, and Doyle said he liked the appearance of the town but thought it rather slow as to pleasures. The chauffeur is then said to have promised to make the evening more pleasurable by introducing "Captain" Doyle to a young woman. Doyle, in his official capacity, acquiesced to such an arrangement and the automobile was headed in the direction of the fair one's abode.

There were lights in the house and the chauffeur said that the time was not propitious as the young lady's mother had not yet retired and he did not wish to call for her until the parent had closed her eyes in sleep. The automobile circled around and around the block, until the light was out. The long wait was rewarded by the appearance of the fair on the street, the automobile was stopped and the introduction was made as promised. The young lady was assisted into the rear seat with "Captain" Doyle. The latter was asked what a ship he was master of. He said that his vessel was lying near Brewer's wharf and proposed that the auto steam down that way.

He remembered just at that moment that he had to call at the police station to bail out two sailors from his ship who had run afoul of the police. This was agreed to. The auto came to a stop before the station. "Captain" Doyle alighted and went in to inquire after "his sailors." When he came out again it was with a warrant charging both the chauffeur and the fair one with an offense which will be aired before Judge Wilcox today.

"Captain" Doyle failed to report on board "his ship" that night, although there was a high tide running.

SABATE HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

One of the Letters Found Contained a Check Payable to August Dreier.

Jean Sabate, charged with violation of the United States statutes governing mail matter, appeared before Commissioner Gill yesterday morning and waived examination. He was held to the grand jury in bonds of $1000 upon each of the two charges preferred against him. It is likely that a third charge will be preferred against Sabate for secreting a letter containing something of value. Among the letters which were opened yesterday was found one from the Hawaiian Electric Co. to August Dreier, containing a check for $165 in payment of rent. The check has been issued in duplicate and Sabate had made no use of the letter which was found in his possession, containing the first order.

WILL FIGHT FOR POSSESSION

John Wise Goes to Lanai to Take Charge of Colburn's Claim.

The question of ownership of 17,000 acres of Lanai land bought by Charles Gay at auction two weeks ago for $108,000 will probably have to be settled in the courts. John F. Colburn sent John Wise to Lanai last evening to take possession of the tract claimed by him, and there will very likely be a fight as to the ownership.

Charles Gay has also notified his agents on Lanai to retain possession of the disputed tract, and if Colburn wants to get into what he claims as his own, he will have to institute ejectment proceedings.

Altogether there are 17,000 acres involved, including the ranch house, sheep pens, wool houses and general headquarters, and without which Gay's purchase would not be worth the amount paid by him at the court sale.
